Local and General

—Mr. Chas. Howson, Regina, paid us a visit last week.

—The new skating rink was opened for skating on Monday night.

—The well known commercial traveller, Mr. Binn, was in town this week.

—Mr. A. Webster is in charge of Messrs. Cowan & Edwards' office during the absence of Mr. J. Cowan.

—We understand that the Qu'Appelle curlers intend taking part in both the Regina and Winnipeg bonspiels.

—Mr. Earnshaw, late of the N.W.M.P., was married to Miss Newman, of Pinesburg, on Monday last.

—J. H. Murphy, of Whitewood, has moved to Yorkton, having accepted the position of Deputy Sheriff of that place.

—We have received a new price list from Jas. McMillan & Co., of Minneapolis, Minn., and Winnipeg, hide and fur dealers.

—Mr. W. C. Lusk, the popular photographer, expects to leave here on Saturday for Regina, where he will remain for a time.

—Mr. J. R. Macalister intends staying at home until spring, when he will again resume work in the mission field.—Wolsley Echo.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. Sutherland, Mr. and Mrs. Elkington, and Mr. and Mrs. Fatherston, were in town during the district model competition.

—"Little Queenie" is the title of a very pretty picture given as a premium by the publishers of the Family Herald and Star, published in Montreal.

—Old Winter is now getting in his work. High winds and drifting snow make it very disagreeable, and adds to the uncertainty in the arrival and departure of trains.

—News has come from Vancouver Island of the death of David Graham, formerly of Broadview, who was one of the license commissioners for this district.—Wolsley Echo.

—The Wolsley Echo comes to us this week in an enlarged form. The paper is now issued by the Echo Publishing Company, Mr. Magee, editor, J. W. Campbell, mechanical superintendent.

—No more pleasant sight was to be met with on streets during the winter competition than the smiling countenance of S. R. Edwards, now of Indian Head, but formerly an old Qu'Appelleite.

—Mr. Davin gives notice of a resolution favoring a bonus on exported butter to Great Britain. He is also urging a bonus of $2.00 to aid in establishing cheese factories and creameries in the Northwest.

—Mr. and Mrs. F. Travis, C.P.R. station agent, Elkton, arrived in town some time ago on a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Broley. Mr. Travis has returned home, but Mrs. Travis remains for a time with her parents.

—I have a number of the school groups finished, also pictures of threshing outfits. Parties wishing to secure a copy, please call this week, as I am leaving town.

W. C. Lusk, photographer

—It was the Prince Consort who introduced the Christmas tree into England—the first ever seen in being that which introduced the first Christmas of the Prince as Royal. For many years Her Majesty kept the feast of Noel with her children at Windsor, but after the death of Prince Albert this was discontinued.

—A long time, liabilities of $200.00. A compromise has been effected at sixty cents on the dollar.

—All patrons of the South Qu'Appelle Creamery received for butter made from cream delivered before 1st August, nine cents per lb., and after that date ten cents per lb. A full and complete statement in next issue.

—The February number of the Delinquent is stocked with its usual amount of seasonal fashions, and many highly interesting articles upon subjects that cannot fail to be acceptable to the many readers of this popular monthly.

I'd like to be a painter,
And with the painter stand,
Green ink upon my forehead
And become my friend,
And if a hand should come
Came to look and say,
I'd like to be a painter,
That hangs behind the door.

—Manitoba low grade wheat is finding a market in British Columbia to some extent for feed. The Brackman & Ker Milling Co. have used some and want more. Mail samples and price to their Vancouver office.

—Dr. Bedford, one of the oldest residents in Emerson, died on Jan. 11, after one week's illness, from pneumonia. The late doctor was well and favorably known all over Southern Manitoba, and by many in the Northwest. We extend to the bereaved family our sincere sympathy.

—The "oldest resident" stopped a Winnipeg Free Press reporter on the street the other day and said, "Just tell your readers that for frozen fingers and toes coal oil is the best thing. If they put the frozen parts of the body into the oil the best will be drawn out and there will be no pain."

—A passenger on one of the channel steamers dropped his pocket book into the sea. Some time later he received it by post, with its contents intact, together with a letter from a French solicitor, stating that it had been found among the haul of a trawl net, and that the papers it contained served to identify the owner.

—A branch of the Aberdeen association has been established at Regina for the purpose of sending a supply of literature monthly to those who are unable to procure such for themselves, in Assiniboia. Settlers desirous of obtaining reading matter are requested to send name and address to Mrs. McIlreath, the barracks, Regina, the corresponding secretary.

—A $160 nugget has been brought down from Stanley, Caribou, says a B. C. exchange. It was found on Lightning creek. Another $80 nugget was found in the vicinity about the same time. In fact, the locality is noted for its big nuggets, for it was in the same place that the famous $180 nugget was found by a Chinaman, and one for $400 by a prospector in the bottom of William's Creek.

—The annual meeting of the Presbyterian congregation was held in the Presbyterian church, Qu'Appelle, on Tuesday night week. The attendance was large and would, without doubt, have been larger had it not been for inclemency of the weather. The usual business was transacted, particulars of which will appear in a future issue. Refreshments were supplied by the ladies of the congregation.

—We have received a letter from Mr. J. A. Cowan, who some weeks ago was called east to Watford, Ont., in consequence of the illness of his father, who has since died, asking that The Progress be forwarded to him there, as he very much misses the Qu'Appelle news. Mr. Cowan also complains of the slowness of business in Ontario, and longs for the time of his return to the go-ahead Northwest.

—Is there any such thing as age and death? M. Petrie, the distinguished archaeologist, found in an Egyptian tomb, where it had been buried for 2,000 years, a garland of roses that had crowned the brow of some famous personage.

—The Columbia Ventilating Cabinet; it is a structure that should be in every house, and when its adaptability and usefulness are better known it will be the exception where it is not used; the comfort, convenience, and sanitary arrangement of the cabinet, especially during the winter, will secure for this ingenious contrivance a widespread popularity.

—La Touche Tupper, inspector of fisheries in Manitoba, has just shipped a consignment of eye-out or half hatched white fish eggs to the hatchery at New Westminster, B.C. The white fish will eventually be deposited in Okanagan and other fresh water lakes of British Columbia. This is the second shipment of white fish eggs sent to the Pacific province, the first shipment being made two years ago and were successfully hatched.

—The annual meeting of the Dairyman's Association will be held in the Town Hall, Regina, on Tuesday, the 28th January, at four p.m., for the election of officers, adoption of by-laws, and to consider the advisability for the holding of conventions at various points in the Territories, and for the transaction of such other business as may be deemed necessary. All farmers and others interested in the extension and welfare of the dairying interests of the Northwest are urgently invited to attend.

—The Orpington fowl, given that name by the originator of the breed, is composed of Minorca, Plymouth Rock, and Langshan blood. It is very hardy, and if given its liberty will thrive well for its food, and I say, without the slightest hesitation, that it is one of the best winter layers we have, and an excellent table fowl. Some people run away with the idea that the Orpington, being a self-colored bird, is very easy to breed for show, but they make a great mistake; not one bird in twenty is typical, as, like all new breeds, it throws back to its original parentage, breed it from what you will.

Curliana.

The annual competition of the Qu'Appelle District branch of the Manitoba branch of the Canadian Curling Association, for the district medal, took place at Qu'Appelle Station on Friday and Saturday, 17th and 18th inst. The home club have made an extensive addition to their rink, and two sheets of perfect ice were provided. Two rinks from each of the following places attended, viz., Regina, Indian Head and Fort Qu'Appelle, who, with two rinks from Qu'Appelle Station, made eight rinks in all. Before saying any more, it is perhaps due to the home club to mention that every one of the players expressed the opinion that the ice was the truest and best they had yet played on. The draw resulted in Indian Head being pitted against Fort Qu'Appelle, and Regina against Qu'Appelle Station. The game put up by each and all of the rinks, more especially Qu'Appelle Station and Regina, could not be excelled; this is at least the impression of one or two Winnipeg gentlemen who happened to be present. Could it not be arranged to have, say, at the Winnipeg bonspiel (if not this year, then in the future) a competition between the best rink in every district. We feel sure that the Qu'Appelle district would establish a name for itself. This remark, born in mind, is only thrown out as a suggestion. The following is the result of the different competitions:

The Markets.

Winnipeg Commercial.
General Situation.—There has been very little change in the wheat situation this week, and the range of prices in leading markets has been much about the same as last week. Large receipts at spring wheat point, has been a factor in maintaining prices. The strongest feature is prices the average milling and export prices. The United States, which reduces stocks notwithstanding large receipts. Exports have increased of late.

Wheat locally.—The feature of interest this week is the closing of elevators at our Lake Superior ports from William and Port Arthur for further receipts of grain. The Canadian Pacific railway company issued notices Friday to shippers that no more grain would be received for those points. The elevators were not completely filled but were closed in order to prevent further grain from being received. What effect this situation will have on prices remains to be seen. It is generally expected that it will depress values, as the only alternative is to hold wheat at the current prices, which through all winter, Eastern points in store or for export. As regards nothing what at interior points, the difficulty will be in having storage where it is wanted. There is considerable storage space at interior points, but it will not be quickly accepted according to requirements. Now that shippers are to take points to store have been shut off by the closing of the elevators, some interior points will no doubt become congested, while at other points there will be a shortage of space. But space at one interior point will not help things at another interior point that is full up. There has not been much accumulation at interior points for some time, as shippers have been shipping the wheat forward to Eastern points in store or for export. An advance in prices in Manitoba country markets went into effect on Monday, prices in the country having been known a fortnight with the port values. In Manitoba country markets, prices to farmers have ranged at 38 to 42 for No. 1 hard according to freight rates and local conditions of the local market. No. 2 hard and No. 1 northern, 2 to 36 under No. 1 hard. No. 3 hard, 30 to 34, 1 to 30 under No. 1 hard. In round lots there has been very little doing, on the idea of values has been about 57c for No. 1 hard, all at base, Fort William, No. 2 hard, 55c; No. 3 hard, 40c. Today prices are rather firm and best about 5c higher, but we learn of no sales. Country deliveries are very tight.

Literary Notes.

The latest issue of Industrial Canada promises to fill a place in the journalistic world of considerable importance. No. 1 now before us, shows evidence of the eminence of much thought brought to a happy focus. The reviewer from month to month of the publishers of Canada, cannot fail to be the greatest interest to all who dwell within the vast area of this country. Industrial Canada, a monthly magazine, comprises in its features what is hard to achieve, indeed, almost command success; the subject matter is excellent, the illustrations are well portrayed, the type is clear and of ample size, the paper is stout and good, and the getting together is very pleasing. The price is $1.

With the advent of the New Year come the seedsmen's catalogues. The one we have received lately from Mr. William Reimer of Toronto, is more than a catalogue—it is an illustrated guide for amateur gardeners, which should make it doubly a treasure.

The Farmer's Advocate for January is up to its usual standard of excellence, and all those interested in agricultural pursuits would do well to consult its pages.

Laps to the Mills.
She stood up in a Broadway car
And looked at the girls in the rap,
And every time she came to a stop
She sat on a young man's lap.

At Fourteenth street she came to a halt
And busily gazed, with a smile,
"Will some one kindly tell me, please,
How many laps to the mill?"
